Miss Rushworth's Weekly Challenge Box!

Challenge 1:

The Alps mountain range runs across more than half of Switzerland. Can you draw your own mountains, cut them out and then put them in order from shortest to tallest?

Bonus question: Can you have a go at measuring their heights using a ruler (to the nearest centimeter)?

Challenge 2:

Switzerland has a long tradition of winter sport tourism. Can you move in different ways by having a go at this winter sports yoga routine?

Top tip: Make sure you take your time and don't rush through the different poses.

Challenge 3:

The most famous mountain in Switzerland is the Matterhorn. Since 1970 the Toblerone chocolate bar's logo depicts the Matterhorn. Can you create a new chocolate bar and design its packaging?

Bonus question: Can you have a go at making your chocolate bar?
