

Home Learning - History

Year 5 and 6 - Session one

L.O To compare and contrast a current day classroom to a Victorian classroom

Victorian schools were very strict and had lots of rules. Students had to stand up every time an adult entered the room and they had to write with their right hand, even if they were left-handed! Boys and girls had different lessons too. Children were taught by copying things down, writing and often chanting things.

Looking at the classroom image above and thinking about your own classroom, your task is to try and identify as many similarities and differences between the two as you can.

Using a piece of paper and a pencil divide the paper into two. Create the following headings.

Similarities	Differences

Using your own knowledge and the images above you can now fill in as much detail about the classrooms as possible. Remember to place the information into the correct column!

