

In the depths of Athens a palace sat (Tatoi Palace in fact). Inside a group of servants surrounded King Kallionus and his 4 daughters (the eldest Phylia then Melita, Heliodora and Arcadia). Arcadia was arguing with her father, "I don't want to marry Prince Axylus!" She yelled.

"It's not your decision to make." The king argued. This carried on over and over until Arcadia stormed off. She grabbed ~~his~~ a small sharp dagger and 6 ~~best~~ beautifully feathered arrows and a smooth wooden bow. She ran outside, and called for her dog Fauna and charged into the distance. Arcadia came to a broken, crumbling ~~cliff~~ cliff, she halted then slowly walked across. Then she ~~became~~ became too confident and ~~fast~~ started to speed up, a crack appeared then 2 then more and a chunk of rock fell. Upon this rock stood Arcadia. When she realised what was happening she tried to find something to grab on to but there was nothing. Then Fauna managed to save her by giving her her paw and pulling Arcadia up. When she was safe and off the cliff she thanked Fauna but she was just happy to help her owner. Arcadia wondered if her near ~~death~~ death experience was a way of the gods telling her to turn back. She never did as she heard screaming in the forest. Arcadia ran there with her ~~bow~~ bow and arrow in her hand and Fauna behind her. When she ~~found~~ ^{found} the source of the noise she ~~got~~ ^{got} the shock of her life, it was her father and sisters. They were no longer conscious or breathing and had no eyes. All of them were ~~in~~ in shreds and holes in their heads where their eyes should of been. Then she heard a howl and ~~then~~ a stick cracked. She hid behind a tree and set her arrow on her bow. She got a glimpse of the great monster that slaughtered her family. She fired an arrow at the monster's head (it was her fastest yet) it knocked it to the ground. Arcadia snook up on the monster and stabbed it in the back many a time until there was nothing but skin and blood and organs on the floor in a dirty horrible heap of mess. She sat there with Fauna at her side and sighed in relief. Then a golden light appeared above the body and there stood a beautiful woman with a spear in her hands. Arcadia thought she was hallucinating ~~as~~ but then feelings from my curse. I would like to offer you 3 wishes. "Athena spoke. Arcadia stood still then stutled "A.. Athena, I can't believe I saved you. I never knew you ~~were~~ were in a curse." Arcadia thought for a moment then questioned "Can I wish to be able to fight Marry freely and for my family to come back." "Of course my dear." Athena granted then all she wished for came true.

Remember if you work hard your wishes may come true. - Athena
